

One solution, three ways to combat clinician burnout.

Excessive administrative burden, inefficient systems, and lack of quality time with patients is draining your care teams and straining your health system.

With Propeller, you can overcome the biggest causes of clinician exhaustion simultaneously.

Streamline clinical workflows without additional logins

Integrations with leading EHR systems – including Cerner® and Epic® – minimize the time spent on administrative tasks such as placing orders and enrolling patients. Propeller's EHR integrations cut patient enrollment time up to 80%.

Enhance clinical decision-making to triage more efficiently

Our solution turns objective data into clinical insights, so clinicians spend less time deciphering reports and more time with patients.

Enable clinical staff to practice at the top of their licenses

From patient identification to enrollment to clinical treatment decisions, our solution clearly outlines important tasks, ensuring care team members are focused on the most appropriate work.

Don't let clinician burnout and staffing shortages keep impacting your health system.

→ Email info@propellerhealth.com.