First Look Report

Challenges ⌄

U.S. hospital labor costs grew at a CAGR of 37% from 2019 to early 2022, and clinical labor shortages, which have long plagued the healthcare industry, are expected to persist. The use of Vendor Management Systems (VMS) in the healthcare industry has been steadily increasing in an effort to combat these trends. In fact, a report by Staffing Industry Analysts found that around 60% of healthcare systems in the US are currently utilizing a VMS solution to manage their contingent workforce.

Solutions ⌄

Enhance productivity and drive engagement with Ringo's industry-leading VMS technology. Manage vendor contracts, source talent, automate timekeeping, eliminate risk, consolidate invoicing, and gain visibility into real-time program data, all in one easy-to-use platform.
